Line Hudson
As President
Reviews Navy

New York, Oct. 27 (AP)—President Truman arrived in New York at 6:58 a. m. (EST), today to participate in the city's greatest Navy Day celebration and review seven miles of battle grey warships arrayed in the Hudson river.

At the station waiting to greet him were Mayor Frank Hague, of Jersey City, and Edward J. Flynn, Bronx Democratic leader.

Guns a-bristle and battle banners flying, the vessels stretched from the shadows of mid-Manhattan skyscrapers, up the full length of Riverside drive, and to Spuyten Duyvil to receive the tribute of the nation they helped bring to victory.

President Truman, in New York for the first time since he became the nation's Chief Executive, opened Navy Day observance at 10:30 a. m. (EST) at the New York Navy yard, commissioning the 45,000-ton supercarrier Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Then, at the head of a 46-car motorcade, the President toured 25 miles of city streets and reviewed a parade by 2,000 marching Navy men and women.

Central Park Speech
At Central Park, he made a speech. It was his first major address on foreign policy, made against a background of stirring world developments.

Aboard the battleship Missouri, the President had a luncheon date with Vice-Admiral Jonas H. Ingram, commander of the Atlantic fleet.

Millions lined New York's Riverside Drive and New Jersey's Palisades to see the commander-in-chief, aboard the battle-hardened destroyer Renshaw, inspect the 47-ship armada in the Hudson from 3:30 p. m. (EST) to 5:30.

The great George Washington bridge, spanning the river at 179th street, served as a grandstand for the naval spectacle.

Personal Tribute
To an almost continual thunder of 21-gun salutes and accompanied by the deafening roar of 1,200 Navy planes overhead, the President paid his personal tribute to the mighty ships—from tiny patrol vessels to dreadnaught battleships, from slim destroyers and submarines to the supercarrier Midway.

In the line of assembled Navy might there was the battleship Missouri, the "Big Mo" immortalized as the scene of the Japanese surrender in Tokyo bay.

There was the carrier Enterprise which the Japanese claimed six times to have sunk, but which lived on to fight in 18 of the major Pacific naval battles.

There was the old New York, veteran battlewagon which fought from the invasion of North Africa through to Okinawa without the loss of a man.

There was the most modern, the largest man-of-war in the world, the carrier Midway, named for our most glorious naval victory but commissioned too late to strike its blow at the Japanese.

TRIPLE HOLIDAY
WAS OBSERVED IN CANAL ZONE

The day following the surrender of Japan was a holiday in Panama, writes Sgt. Richard T. Morrison, Adams county soldier stationed in Balboa at the time that news came, in a letter to a friend here.

"Perhaps it may be of interest to you to know of the reactions of the men in the service down here in Panama, to that long-awaited day, victory and peace, the day on which one of the longest and worst wars in the history of the human race had ended," said Morrison.

"Of course, for a few days before, all of us knew that Japan was on the point of collapse. A couple of atomic bombs had put the finishing touch. For the Japanese, it was a sure case of surrender or die. And in spite of the prevalence of harkiri, they choose not to die.

"When the announcement came over the radio, everyone knew what it was. Victory, peace and home. It was a dream come true. Sailors and soldiers nearly went wild with joy, and everyone that could ran off to Panama to celebrate. One attractive girl ran up to a sailor, threw her arms around him, and smacked him a luscious kiss upon the cheek.

"You don't feel offended, do you?" "Oh no, in fact, it can be repeated, and I won't call a policeman."

Triple Holiday
"The next day was a holiday in Panama. It was a triple holiday. It was a church festival; it was a day set apart also to do honor to our late President, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, and then, by coincidence, Victory Over Japan Day.

"There was a huge parade in Panama City. Soldiers, sailors, college boys and girls, school children and the various organizations turned out for the parade. For a while, the days of the carnival returned. There was spontaneous and infectious joy on everyone's face.

"The more serious-minded of us betook ourselves to the churches, to (Please Turn to Page 2)

PRICE THREE CENTS

R. C. HARPSTER
NAMED AS NEW
CHIEF OF POLICE

Robert C. Harpster, Harrisburg, formerly of Lewistown, a veteran of 15 years experience as a policeman and detective, was elected as Gettysburg's new chief of police at a special meeting of council Friday evening.

He will succeed Chief of Police Glenn Guise, who has resigned to become manager of the Adams County Motors by November 1. Harpster will start his new job "as soon as possible," councilmen said. He probably will come here next week.

The new chief will start work at $2,000 per year. Guise now receives $2,400. The new man has the prospect of a salary increase if his work proves satisfactory. It was indicated by councilmen Friday evening.

Recommended by Committee
Harpster is 38 years old, weighs 179 pounds and is five feet 10 inches tall. He is married and the father of two children. Members of the safety committee said they expect Harpster's family will come to Gettysburg soon.

Council's selection was made on the basis of a recommendation of the safety committee presented by Chairman Harry J. Troxell who said Harpster is his committee's choice for the job from among 18 applicants for the position. "We think he has the qualifications that are needed to perform successfully the job of chief of police in Gettysburg," Mr. Troxell said.

The new officer served for two years on the borough police force in Lewistown and for two years was police chief in Burnham, Pa., near Lewistown. Then for eight years he served as a special investigator out of the office of the district attorney at Lewistown after which he was employed for three years and three months as a detective for the Pennsylvania railroad. He is now in the railroad's employ.

Went To Lewistown
The safety committee's investigation of the applicant included a trip to Lewistown Tuesday by Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer and Councilman George D. March. They made inquiries about his professional record and his character in that community with satisfactory results, they told council.

Harpster's election was unanimous. The safety committee had reported the officer was willing to come to Gettysburg at a starting salary of $1,800 but council decided on the higher figure as "more fair" to a qualified officer.

Discussion of his qualifications brought out the information that he is trained to take fingerprints and has some experience with photography. There is both fingerprinting equipment and a camera in borough police headquarters here.

One councilman asked that the list of 18 applicants be read to council but the safety committee said some of the applicants are in positions that led them to ask the committee to treat their applications in confidence. The list was not read. All of the members of council were present at the meeting which adjourned promptly after the vote on Harpster's application. President H. M. Oyer presided.

E BOND BUYERS

Six hundred Adams countians who purchase series E bonds from issuing agents in the county during the victory Loan drive have in store for them a musical treat in the form of a concert by the Infantry Concert Group, which was so successful in its concert here during the last war loan drive. It is being brought back to Gettysburg by popular demand, it was stated today by Sydney J. Poppay, special events chairman of the Adams County War Finance Committee. Regardless of the denomination of the bond, the purchaser will have an opportunity to secure a ticket for the concert.

The concert will be presented in Brua Chapel Friday evening, November 9. Mrs. Frank Kramer will be in charge of general arrangements at the chapel.

25c Service Charge
Six hundred tickets will be exchanged for pink certification forms issued with the purchase of bonds. There will be no reserved seats.

Tickets will be available at the Majestic theatre beginning Friday, November 2, during the hours of theatre operation. A service charge of 25 cents will be made on each ticket to help defray the expense of bringing the musicians to Gettysburg.

The Infantry Concert Group is an army ground forces musical organization made up of enlisted men who were musicians in symphony orchestras and name bands before entering the army.

The program will include light classics and modern music.

LOCAL MEN IN JAP BLOCKADE

Two Gettysburg navy men, Arthur W. Brown, 20, gunner's mate 3/c, R. 4, and Thomas J. Hilty, 20, S 1/c, 233 West High street, served with the USS Melvin when this destroyer steamed through Tsugaru straits with other units of the North Pacific force to receive the surrender of and to occupy Northern Japan. The Melvin participated in the blockade and bombardment of Japan, fought in the battle of Surigao straits and earned eight battle stars.

S 1/ Glenn C. Baker, 20, R. 2, Biglerville, carried an unlucky number through a lucky voyage to be among the first American naval personnel to move into Shanghai after the end of hostilities.

The unit which carried this distinction was organized under the mysterious name of NABU 13, or Naval Advance Base Unit 13. Members, most of them Seabees, were the first Americans to move through the Yangtze and Wangpoo rivers in eight years, since shortly before the ill-fated Panay had been bombed and sunk in 1937.

A Seventh Armored Division veteran, S/Sgt. Paul E. Altoff, 104 East King street, Littlestown, has been discharged from the army through the Indiantown Gap separation center, after fighting with the "Lucky Seventh" through France, Holland, Belgium and deep into Germany, including the battles of Metz, St. Vith and the Ruhr. His decorations include the combat infantryman's badge and the ETO ribbon with four battle stars.

Sgt. Altoff entered the army in March, 1942, and trained at Camp Polk, La., Camp Coxcomb, Calif., and Ft. Benning, Ga., before embarking for overseas in June, 1944. A graduate of Littlestown high school in 1928, he was employed by the Hardware and Foundry company prior to entering service.

TO ADDRESS ROTARIANS
Dr. R. S. Saby, member of the faculty of Gettysburg college, will be the speaker at the Monday evening meeting of the Rotary club at the Y.W.C.A. His subject will be "Problems of International Organization."

GRAB'S PETITION IS REFUSED BY JUDGE SHEELY

The petition of E. G. Grab, Sr., Harrisburg street, alleging an error on the part of the court in disposing of the case brought against him by state police under the Uniform Firearms act last February was refused by Judge W. C. Sheely in a seven-page opinion handed down in court this morning.

The opinion holds that the gun Grab carried was a firearm in spite of his contention that it lacked a clip and was incapable of being fired; that the procedure, chosen by Grab's counsel to have the disposition of the case set aside was wrong and that the defendant has failed to show that the evidence on which the case was re-opened was not discoverable before Grab faced the court for sentence six months ago.

Grab, after becoming involved in an altercation during the course of which he drew a .32 caliber Colt automatic pistol from his pocket was arrested by state police under the Uniform Firearms act. Grab waived indictment and entered a plea of "no defense" and when he appeared in court in February drew a suspended sentence on condition that he pay $200 to the county and the costs of the case.

First Case of Kind
In May, after having secured new counsel, Sydney Friedman, Esq., of Harrisburg, Grab petitioned for a "writ of error" and testimony was taken and the case argued. Friedman contended the gun was not a firearm because the clip was missing, that this fact had just been discovered and was not available when the case was first disposed of.

"The defendant has failed to show that he could not have discovered this fact concerning the inability of the pistol to be fired with the clip missing" and presented it to the court by the exercise of due diligence had he considered the fact important in his defense," the court wrote.

During argument in the case in court it was brought out that no similar case has been decided in state courts and that the Uniform Firearms act lacks a definition of a firearm. The court offers this definition in today's opinion: "We would define a firearm as a pistol or revolver capable of discharging a cartridge or which, by a simple operation, can be rendered capable of discharging a cartridge."

Wrong Procedure
On the importance of the clip being in the gun, the court wrote: "The removal of the clip merely brings into play certain mechanism which acts as an additional safety device. The insertion of the clip does not make a gun a firearm—it merely releases the safety mechanism."

Judge Sheely attached no significance to the defendant's statement that the clip was 16 miles away in the defendant's home here at the time of the altercation at Peach Glen.

Ruling that Grab had taken a wrong procedure in reopening the case through asking a writ of error, Judge Sheely held Grab actually "is seeking to avoid by a writ of error what is not an erroneous adjudication by the court but an alleged erroneous decision (on the part of the defendant) to enter the no defense plea."

There is no intimation in the testimony in the case, the court held, that state police misled Grab at the time he filed his plea.

The Atomic Bomb
"Handwriting On The Wall"

By GLENN A. WILLIAMS
London, Oct. 27 (AP)—Unless controlled by an international organization, the atomic bomb is "the handwriting on the wall" foreshadowing fulfillment of Biblical prophecies of the end of the world, the most Rev. Dr. Cyril Porster Garbett, archbishop of York, said today.

"Our statesmen must create some international organization to whose hand the secret and manufacture of these bombs may be entrusted," the archbishop wrote in his November diocesan letter.

The archbishop said the international organization "must control such overwhelming force that it could retaliate at once on any nation that attempted to decide an issue by a sudden attack on its adversary."

"The Biblical declaration that the end of the world will come sud-

Duck Hunter Pays
Fine At New Oxford

Irvin Hostetter, Thomasville, R. D. 1, was arrested by State police of the Gettysburg detail Thursday on a charge of discharging firearms too close to a dwelling while hunting on the farm of R. Roy McClarin, along the Lincoln highway, between Cross Keys and Abbotstown. He entered a plea of guilty and paid a fine of $25 and costs before Justice of the Peace Claude Straley, New Oxford.

The alleged violation of the hunting laws took place on October 13. On that occasion, a number of ducks on a pond on the McClarin farm, which is tenanted by Edward Duncan, were shot. The ducks had been swimming on the pond all summer and some of them had been there for several years. It is said. They had become quite tame and were fed at the barn with other fowls.

State police said that Hostetter stood on the highway at the McClarin farm to shoot the ducks. Before bringing the charge against him they determined that he had been less than 150 yards from the dwelling on the property. The law prohibits hunting within less than 150 yards of a home.

S. S. WORKERS
LAY PLANS FOR COMING YEAR

"Only about 55 per cent of those enrolled in Sunday schools attend regularly," Ira Sassaman, Philadelphia, secretary of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School association, stated at the workers' conference of the Adams County Council of Christian Education held Friday afternoon at Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church.

Mr. Sassaman, who led the conference, explained the four-year plan for new attainment and growth for counties and districts.

In planning work for the Children's Division it was announced that emphasis this year will be put on friendship, making use of the Bible and daily devotions. It was pointed out that these fundamentals should be taught in the Sunday school.

Plan Youth Program
Plans were presented for a County Youth Council which would formulate a program for Christian activities for the Young People's Division.

In the Adult Department the topic for the year was announced as being "Building a Daily Devotional Life." Special Bible readings have been prepared for daily use from Thanksgiving until Christmas.

The Rev. Howard Schley Fox, pastor of Trinity church, led the devotions.

Forty-three persons attended the banquet Friday evening which was served by women of Trinity church.

A four-way conference will be held for workers Sunday afternoon, November 18, at St. James Lutheran church.

LOCAL YOUTH ON LARGE CARRIER

Eugene F. Utech, 19, seaman, first class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Utech, 452 West Middle street, has been assigned to the crew of the USS Franklin D. Roosevelt, second of the Navy's new super aircraft carriers.

The 45,000-ton carrier, named for the late President Roosevelt, is the first major combatant vessel of the modern fleet ever to be named for an individual.

Members of the ship's crew took pre-commissioning training at the Atlantic Fleet's Naval Training Station at Newport, R. I.

New York, Oct. 27 (AP)—President Truman commissioned the aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt today as a symbol of America's pledge to the United Nations to help "stop any international gangster."

In his first New York speech since he succeeded the man whose name is inscribed in bronze on the mighty new warship, the President paid warm tribute to the late President's foreign and domestic policies and stressed international cooperation. Mr. Truman said:

"This ship is a symbol of our commitment to the United Nations organization to reach out anywhere in the world and to help the peace-loving nations of the world stop any international gangster."

"A hundred hours after leaving New York this ship could be off the coast of Africa. In five days she could cross the western Pacific from Pearl Harbor to the Philippines. This vessel alone could put more than 100 fighting planes over a target."

Law As Arbiter
The President asserted the United States will strive to bring that day closer when law rather than force will be the "arbiter of international relations." Until then, he urged that the nation make sure that "no possible aggressor is going to be tempted by any weakness on the part of the United States."

Save Your Fats

By continuing their magnificent job of fat salvage, housewives can help return to store shelves plentiful supplies of soap and hundreds of other things they've been waiting for. Fats and oils are just as important to the production of peace-time goods as they were for munitions, and supplies of industrial fats are far short of demands and needs. That is why the government has increased from two to four points the bonus for used fats.

Domestic production, which has never been able to compensate fully for the loss of imports from the Pacific, is down this year and it will take many months to bring imports back to peacetime levels. Meanwhile, there is a tremendous demand for fats and oils. They are urgently needed in the manufacture of soap and nearly all other consumer goods—nylons, refrigerators, automobiles, paints. American women can speed the return of these things by saving used fats and turning them in as soon as they can no longer be re-used for cooking.

About forty per cent of the total allocations of fats and oils for industrial uses goes to civilian soaps; another thirteen per cent to the manufacture of soaps for industrial purposes; the remaining forty-seven per cent to paints and varnishes, coated fabrics, lubricating oils, textiles and leather, core oils, pharmaceuticals, putty, calking etc.

Fats are used for varied purposes, such as:

Every manufactured item that is machined requires cutting oils for the machining.

Every electrical appliances uses wire. Industrial fats and oils are essential to wire-drawing.

Most products are painted, enameled or varnished. Industrial fats or derivatives therefrom, are required to make these protective coverings.

The synthetic rubber program uses tremendous quantities of soap, which in turn requires large quantities of industrial fats to make.

All textiles at some stage in their manufacture require soap or fat and oil products.

Demands of other countries for fats and oil are also great. Continental Europe, which before the war imported 45 billion pounds of fats and oils, needs a minimum of two billion pounds this year. It is doubtful that there are enough surplus supplies in the whole world to meet even this minimum.

Housewives are asked to:

Save every drop of used fat by draining pans, skimming soups and gravies, melting down trimmings of meat left on platters and plates.

Pour immediately into the salvage can those fats which can't be re-used.

Re-use those suitable for cooking, and salvage whatever is left.

Turn in the fat salvage container to your meat dealer promptly. You'll get four points and four cents for every pound turned in.

MURDER CHARGE
FILED AGAINST
BURKE C. SCOTT

Burke Curtis Scott, 16-year-old Latimore township youth held since Wednesday evening in the shotgun death of his father, Warwick Scott, 56-year-old veteran of World War I, was formally charged with murder late Friday afternoon.

The information was filed before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore by Sgt. Walter K. Duhrkoff of the Gettysburg substation of the state police, who is in charge of the police investigation of the case.

Sergeant Duhrkoff revealed that young Scott has made a statement to police in which he admitted he "cocked the gun and pulled the trigger" while the gun was pointing at his father.

The officer declined to disclose any other parts of the boy's statement to indicate the circumstances under which the shooting occurred.

Boy Remains In Jail
In the information it is alleged that young Scott "feloniously, wilfully and with malice aforethought did kill and slay" his father. The scene of the shooting was the Scott property about three miles northeast of York Springs. The time is given as "at or about 4:30 p. m. on Wednesday, October 24" and the weapon is described as a 12-gauge shotgun.

First versions of the shooting indicated that the gun was discharged during a struggle for possession of the weapon after the father had objected to Burke having the gun. Sergeant Duhrkoff would not say to what extent the boy's statement has altered that version.

The murder charge was laid after a conference between state police and District Attorney J. Francis Yake at the district attorney's office. Young Scott was not present when the charge was filed. He remains in the county jail without bail. In felony cases the prisoners are not bailable before justices of the peace but must petition the court to fix the amount of the bond which then would be posted before the clerk of the courts.

No Inquest Date
Justice Basehore said he is awaiting instructions from the district attorney as to whether the case shall be certified to quarter sessions for grand jury action in November or whether it should be sent to juvenile court because of the boy's age. Pending a decision on that point, no arrangements have been made for a hearing.

Dr. C. G. Crist, the county coroner, has announced he will hold an inquest in the case but the date has not been set.

Warwick Scott's body was shipped Friday to Marlinton W. Va., for final services and interment. Scott was born in Hillsboro, W. Va., but had resided in this county for the last six years.

Navy Unveils Mighty Power As State Pays Honor To Tars

(By The Associated Press)

The Navy captured Pennsylvania today.

Throughout the Keystone state civilians paid tribute to the men in Navy blue and publicly inspected, for the first time since "that day of infamy" at Pearl Harbor, the warships of the U. S. Fleet that took the war far away from American shores.

Battleships, aircraft carriers, submarines and tiny landing craft—their armament, operation and construction one of the closely-guarded secrets of the war—were visited by a curious public.

In cities dotting Pennsylvania's major waterways special celebrations were held and the Navy proudly unveiled its mighty power. And inside the state—in localities which no ship could reach—programs were the theme of the day and naval heroes, home from the wars, took the plaudits of their townfolk in stride.

Fourteen Immortals

The biggest naval display was in Philadelphia. Fourteen warships, made immortal by their proud war record, were opened to public inspection there. They included the Cruiser Philadelphia, called the "galloping ghost" of the fleet because it escaped unscathed from 35 raids, the Battleship Washington, the Aircraft Carrier Langley, the Heavy Cruiser Bremerton, the Destroyer Murray, and a number of submarines and transports.

The Battleship Pennsylvania—31 years old and called affectionately by her crew "Old Falling Apart"—was in drydock at Bremerton, Wash., unable to make the trip back to the Keystone State.

Naval officials announced Friday night that the Pennsylvania was struck by an aerial torpedo 59 hours before official end of the war with Japan in Buckner bay, Okinawa.

A crowd of 73,000 persons jam-packed Franklin Field in Philadelphia to see Navy—in the gridiron—play the University of Pennsylvania in the top football game of the day.

Pittsburgh Celebrates

Tonight, in the Quaker City, Vice Admiral John W. Towers, U. S. Navy, who commanded part of the Pacific Fleet, and Capt. Winfield Scott Cunningham, commander of Wake Island until its surrender and a Japanese prisoner for more than three years, will be guests of honor at a Navy League dinner.

Pittsburgh citizens also had a victory dinner with Admiral Richard S. Edwards, second in command of the fleet, and Captain John E. Gingrich, commander of the U. S. S. Pittsburgh, as guests of honor. Inspection of four combat vessels and an air show over the city were programmed too.

In other Pennsylvania cities:

It was open house at the Navy's $45,000,000 Mechanicsburg Naval Supply Depot near Harrisburg. Major General Thomas E. Watson, commander of the Second Marine Division in the Marianas, will address a WAVES banquet in the state capital tonight.

Captain Robert L. Porter, Jr., former commander of the U. S. S. Wilkes-Barre, served as honorary mayor of Wilkes-Barre today.

Chester residents will inspect a submarine tomorrow and Erie citizens will view a landing ship.

Hospital Report

Jacqueline Rogers, South Mountain; Mrs. Gilbert McKenrick, Hanover street; Genevieve Kugler, Emmitsburg, and Donald Chronister, Seven Stars, were operated upon this morning at the Warner hospital for the removal of their tonsils.

Other admissions included Mrs. Paul Stock, New Oxford; Mrs. Ralph Riley, 252 East Middle street, and James Pierce, York street. Those discharged were Annie Routzahn, Gardners R. # TALKS BEAR ON COLLABORATION AMONG ALLIES

By EDDIE GILMORE

Moscow, Oct. 27 (AP)—Conversations of U. S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and Generalissimo Stalin concerning a communication President Truman sent the Soviet leader have led to developments which may have an important bearing on future collaboration among the Allies, it was learned today.

Harriman was received by the Soviet leader at a vacation resort in the Black sea area, and discussed with him at length mutual problems.

This was the second time since Truman took office that he has had Harriman go directly to the Soviet leader with matters affecting the two nations. On the other occasion, following the death of President Roosevelt, Harriman appeared personally at the Kremlin, at a time when Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov was away, attending the San Francisco Conference.

Stalin Not Ill

Another point of importance connected with the U. S. Ambassador's visit to Stalin at the Black sea resort of Sochi was the confirmation it gave that the Generalissimo was not seriously ill, as had been reported in some sections of the foreign press. Stalin is ready to return to Moscow soon.

Truman's letter to Stalin, dated October 14 and presented ten days later, was the basis of the two conversations the Ambassador had with the Soviet leader. Harriman returned to Moscow late yesterday, extremely tired from the long trip.

Harriman found the Soviet leader rested, because of the 18 days the Premier has spent away from his desk.

The reports in the foreign press of Stalin's extreme illness were said to have given the Generalissimo considerable amusement.

CANNERS DROP FIRST GAME TO LOWER PAXTON

Biglerville high school's hopes for an undefeated football season were shattered Friday night when Lower Paxton high put on a strong finish to upset the Canners 32-14 in a Lower Susquehanna conference game played on the Island field at Harrisburg.

Coach "Hen" Bream's outfit, held a 14-13 advantage at half time. Previously Biglerville had won three games and tied another.

Dave Pitzer of Biglerville began the scoring, getting a touchdown on a play that began at about the Lower Paxton high four-yard line to end a drive of approximately 50 yards. Pitzer scored a point after touchdown on a kick.

After taking the ensuing kickoff, Lower Paxton marched to a touchdown, with Bruce Cobb going from the Biglerville three-yard line on a reverse to score. However, it did not add the extra point.

Taking the ball at the Biglerville 38 on a punt, Lower Paxton tallied another touchdown, aided by a 19-yard run to the four-yard line by Swavely, who did the scoring. Kepler added a point after touchdown on a plunge.

However, Biglerville scored later in the period, Utz getting a touchdown on a pass from D. Pitzer, and Pitzer tallying an extra point, and Biglerville held a 14 to 13 lead at half-time.

In the third period Lower Paxton drove 44 yards to a touchdown, Swavely making a three-yard end run to score. In the last quarter it added two six-pointers, Kepler getting one touchdown on a plunge after a kick by the Biglerville team had been blocked, and Shadel scoring on a 23-yard run after Monn of Lower Paxton had recovered the ball at the Biglerville 25 on a fumble by the Biglerville team.

MAROON SCRUBS DOWN HANOVER

A football victory finally came to Gettysburg high school's forces Friday evening when Fred Haehnlen's Maroon jayvees defeated the Hanover junior high varsity 12-0 in a game played on the local field.

Westerdahl, Gettysburg halfback, tallied both touchdowns for the locals. Late in the second quarter he broke off tackle, cut for the side lines and outran the Hanover defense to scamper 40 yards for a touchdown.

The visitors, evidently expecting an easy conquest, had started their shock troops but immediately inserted the varsity following Westerdahl's touchdown. Despite the presence of the regulars, the Haehnlen-men played their opponents on even terms the remainder of the period.

Again in the third period the Maroons dominated play throughout but could not generate enough power for a score.

In the final frame the Maroons drove 75 yards for a score, Westerdahl going over from the one-yard line. Line plunges by Hottle and Westerdahl and several passes to Ridinger moved the ball into scoring position.

The Maroons showed much improvement on the offense and defense, particularly on pass defense. Hottle, Westerdahl and Ridinger played well on the offense with Shetter being outstanding defensively. The entire line played excellent ball, particularly in the second half.

TEMPLE FACES SUPREME TEST AGAINST PITT

By LEE LINDER

Philadelphia, Oct. 27 (AP)—It's Navy Day in Philadelphia (and at Franklin Field) today but to the University of Pennsylvania football squad the assemblage of Middles spells trouble on the gridiron.

The occasion marks the 30th contest between Penn and the U. S. Naval Academy, both teams undefeated and untied. The Quakers, in addition, have not been scored on this season.

The game turns the nation's grid spotlight on the Keystone state. It's the top pigskin classic of the week-end and will attract an outpouring of 73,000 fans—most rooting for the Red and Blue to find "the miracle" and upset the Midshipmen.

But the experts and the odds-makers think little of the Quaker chances.

Penn Coach George Munger, hospitalized during the grippie, may not even see the clash—and if he does it will be only as a spectator on doctor's orders. He admitted earlier that Navy was out of Penn's class but he does not discount the possibility that anything can happen in football.

Temple vs. Pitt

Temple's unbeaten, untied Owls—top college scoring power in the east—seek win No. 5 in the backyard of the University of Pittsburgh Panthers and Owl Mentor Ray Morrison admits he's "plenty scared" about the outcome.

"I'd settle right now for a one-point victory," he says.

The Templars, notoriously a poor winner away from home, sport their longest win streak since 1941 and they are expected to keep it going another week at least.

Villanova, fresh from its conquest of Detroit a week ago, invades Knoxville to tangle with the Tennessee Volunteers. The Vols played in the Rose Bowl in 1944, but the Wildcats may be in an upsetting mood.

Bucknell, beaten the last five times out, plays Lafayette at Easton; Lehigh, winner in its only start, entertains Connecticut at Bethlehem; Pennsylvania Military College invades Haverford, and Slippery Rock, (Pa.), Teachers' college plays Fairmont State at Fairmont, West Va., in other games today.

Friday's Scores

City College of New York plays at Scranton tomorrow.

In games yesterday, an invading Atlantic City Naval Air Station eleven punched across four touchdowns to down Lock Haven Teachers' college 24-6; Drexel Tech was upset 7-0 by West Chester Teachers' college on the latter's field, and Morgan State college, Negro intercollegiate champions, extended their domination over Lincoln university to the fifth straight year, winning 20-0 at Philadelphia.

Arrest Aged Man In Rifle Death

Uniontown, Pa., Oct. 27 (AP)—State police said Blair Krieger, 72, arrested in a clump of bushes four miles from his home, was held for miles from his home, was held for of John Molchen, 50, miner, Monday night in front of Kreiger's home.

Troopers Paul T. Engle and Arthur B. Cohen said Kreiger's rifle lay beside him but he offered no resistance.

They said the old man told them he had slept in the corn fields during the nights a posse was seeking him.

Police called to Brownsville air-shaft, a community near here, found Molchen dead and Clyde Oglethorpe, 44, bleeding from a shoulder wound. Oglethorpe is recovering in Uniontown hospital. The officers said neighbors told them the shooting occurred after Kreiger complained Oglethorpe's radio kept him awake nights.

CLARENCE A. HEIGES

Candidate For

BURGESS of GETTYSBURG

To Republicans and Democrats Alike

I kindly solicit your vote at the General Election Tuesday, November 6th. My previous record as your Burgess speaks for itself, and I trust merits not only your vote but your influence with your friends as well. As your Burgess, I never made a pledge I did not fulfill.

FIRST: If elected, I again pledge an economic, clean-cut administration; there will be no distinction between parties, race or creeds, and entirely free from favoritism.

SECOND: I will extend every courtesy possible to the thousands of tourists who will visit our town during the next four years. My previous record on this is backed up by the letters I have on file received from tourists who visited here during my previous administrations, who had only words of praise for our town and the treatment accorded them by the town's administration. All businesses, tourist homes and guides are affected by the courtesy accorded to tourists by the Burgess and his Police Department.

THIRD: I shall handle promptly every request and duty pertaining to the office, same as in the past.

FOURTH: If elected, I will practice the same economy and do everything within my power to see that there is no waste in the Borough's finances. This, also is backed up by my previous record. When Burgess, I requested Council to keep from 10 to 15% under the town's budget each year so as to reduce our debt instead of increasing it, thus with a cooperating council, we were able in a few years to reduce our indebtedness by approximately $55,000.

FIFTH: I shall have the good of the town at heart at all times, and shall endeavor to make Gettysburg a more beautiful and progressive town in which to live in so far as it is possible without adding any further expenses upon our town people.

SIXTH: I, too, want to see the mosquitoes banished from our town so far as is humanly possible. However, this is not within the power of any Burgess, it is a matter council must finance and be cooperative in the work, however, a Burgess can insist upon a campaign against the pest and can work with council and give the matter his whole support. Here, again, you know what I will do by previous activities: While I was Burgess we had a couple years in which the mosquito was practically conquered. We had a councilman who devoted hours of his time and considerable money of his own to rid the town of mosquitoes, and I worked with him at that time, as well as other members of council, and we had results. I will insist upon such a campaign again.

I really have but one pledge to make:

"If elected, I will conduct the office of Burgess along the same economic and efficient lines as I did previously."

In the last election in which I was a candidate for Burgess, I received 76% of the total vote of both parties. I will appreciate the vote of both Republicans and Democrats November 6th.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

U. S. N.—1775-1945

For seventy and one hundred years the navy lads have sailed the seven seas to guard the flag, and never once have failed. They've braved the bergs of northern lanes, typhoons and tropic gales. And for tradition's golden book have lived heroic tales.

They've spread their canvas to the winds, then hauled it down for steam. They've built into accomplished fact what genius used to dream. Their list of glorious names is long: Paul Jones to Ernest King, and in between are countless more to whom will memory cling.

There's Nimitz now and Halsey, too, and every boy and man. Who trod the decks and trained the guns that overcame Japan. Afloat, submerged and in the air! How true the course it steers! A navy that has kept the faith one hundred seventy years.

FUNNY THINGS

If we are not too wrapped up in ourselves, we can discover any amount of humor sparkling all about us, no matter where we may be.

I still chuckle to myself over some of the ridiculous situations that came up on the farm where I worked as a boy. The old hen strutting around, proud as an old aristocrat, trying to make up her mind as to the very best place in which to lay her egg. A litter of small pigs at the trough, with their legs in the food, and their squealing and pushing, intent upon their own requirement in life.

A horse in its stall, munching its hay or oats, suddenly surprised. At such a time I have watched with great interest the movements and actions of that horse. I have talked, whistled, and laughed in its presence to get the reaction. Often I got an answering whinny or a stamp of feet, or some other sort of call. Often I would laugh out loud, and suddenly the horse would stop its chewing and look around as though to remark: "What a crazy fool!" And yet, perhaps not—perhaps that horse, too, enjoyed the situation of comradeship.

We all have our embarrassing moments. Usually we try to cover them up or to pass them off, as damaging to our pride. If we would laugh them off, it would be better.

Nearly everyone of us is concerned as to what others think of us. If we do a good job from day to day, live decently, have a purpose, and follow out a useful plan, we don't have to worry about what anyone will think of us. They will think well. It's funny how we worry over situations that rarely come to pass anyway.

We laugh over the sight of a well dressed man walking down the street with his shoe string untied and flopping around, but if it occurs to us, we get mad at its discovery—some of us!

It's a grand sight to watch a horse kick up its heels and run in an open field after being barned up. It's a better sight to see a man, or woman, enjoying himself or herself upon some unusual lark, after being housed too long at a job, or in an office, suddenly learning the thrill of freedom.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 27 (AP)—Post-war travel troubles sent a Kansas City woman to a Cheyenne doctor today. The Laramie county sheriff's office reported that between trains she threw an orange at a fellow feminine traveler from Ogden, Utah, who snatched a bottle and crowned her with it.

by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL
Member S.A.E.

The records show that many a driver who insisted on his rights at busy intersections was dead right.

One Way To Tell

When the stoplights operate continuously most owners naturally assume that the switch has stuck. That is why I think it may be news to them to learn that this trouble can be due to failure of the master cylinder piston to return to its stop position. For it to reach this position it is necessary to have a certain amount of play in the push rod. Without this a situation develops where the compensating port in the master cylinder won't open to the reservoir. Not only do the stoplights remain on but the brakes drag. In fact, the combination of these troubles is the tipoff as to the cause.

Must Be Polarized

If the new or rebuilt generator you are having installed hasn't been polarized current will flow from it in a reverse direction causing relay points to vibrate, arc and then burn up. To avoid this be sure to polarize the generator before starting the engine. How this is done will depend on whether the generator is the type grounded inside itself or outside. In general the method is to connect momentarily a jumper lead from the relay to the battery terminals. This permits a heavy flash of current to flow through the field circuit of the generator. There are other methods which service men may use.

Keep Them In Mind

Now is the time to watch out for the car behind. Traffic has increased to a point where on a normally busy road there is always someone just behind. If the driver happens to be trying to get by his car will be in the blind spot of your car's rear windows. You start to overtake the car ahead, and then there's trouble.

How is the engine holding the car when you go downhill on compression? This is a good hint of the engine's condition as to valves and rings.

Over the past ten years most roads have been widened. This goes for rural as well as urban highways. So when driving at night don't come so close to approaching vehicles. If the road is old fashioned use the car's fog light to pick up the right shoulder.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"On several occasions I have mentioned the mischief that the little condenser pigtail can cause in the distributor. Reference then was to its habit of breaking inside its insulation, but now I want to add another of its vagaries. Recently a reader noted that there was a bad skip in his engine. Traced to the number 3 plug wire terminal on the distributor head he found that the condenser pigtail wire came so near the contact button as to encourage high tension to jump. This naturally starved the number 3 spark plug, and caused the miss. Just moving the pigtail wire into a different position put the engine back to normal again."

On Turning Brake Drums

While reconditioning of brake drums is a "must" in many cases it isn't reasonable to turn them unless really necessary. The action of brake shoes against the drums wear the latter hard and smooth, and unless the drums are warped or badly scored any turning is likely to be an invitation to unnecessary brake troubles. Another point worth considering is the fact that unless turned drums are finished to a very smooth surface by grinding they will raise hobs with the new lining. This may easily result in a return engagement of the original drum trouble.

Rule On Quick Charging

There's plenty of controversy these days over whether to risk a quick charge with a good battery. These charger units are everywhere in use, and yet the old line battery stations continue to use and favor slow charging methods. One of the leading electrical companies offers the helpful suggestion that an occasional rapid charge is all right if the electrolyte temperature doesn't exceed 125 degrees Fahrenheit. There should be no excessive bubbling or loss of electrolyte.

Another good rule, possibly the best, is to rely on the judgment of a good service man who understands batteries.

How To Undercut Mica

When the spaces between segments of a generator or starter-motor commutator fill up the commutator should be put into a lathe and cut down, and the spaces between the segments should be undercut. In doing this be careful not to leave edges of the remaining mica next to the segments. Cut it away clean between segments. A three cornered file is all right for starting the cutting process, but finish it up with a piece of hacksaw blade.

Meaning Of The "Stumble"

When the engine of your car falters or stumbles as the throttle is closed suddenly while you are driving slowly the indications are

NEW B. F. GOODRICH TIRE

THAT OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES

THIS isn't a guess. A new kind of tire has been developed, and tests show that it outwears prewar passenger car tires.

It is made of a new kind of synthetic rubber developed by B. F. Goodrich—different from the ordinary synthetic rubber in general use by the tire industry. It helps the new tire run cooler—wear better.

The new tire has had more than 2,000 laboratory tests. Taxicab fleets, state police departments and the B. F. Goodrich test fleet have run it 16,800,000 test miles. Not only does it give longer tread wear than prewar tires, but it has more resistance to bruising or damage from accident.

A new, slightly different shaped tread—we call it the "road level" tread—is another feature that means longer wear. Engineers had wished for years to make a tread just slightly flatter. But that more desirable shape always set up strains in the tire body, or "carcass," as it is called. B. F. Goodrich developed an entirely new and stronger cotton cord, designed it into a 35% stronger carcass that stands all these strains and permits the use of the new flatter, longer-wearing tread.

The tread design is new. It is made up of hundreds of skid-resisting curves for quicker stops, surer starts—safer driving.

In a few weeks these new tires will begin to be produced in large volume, but supplies may be limited for quite a while. We have placed our order, and hope to have our shipment shortly. Watch for our announcement. And in the meantime, take good care of the tires you have—make them last until you can replace them with these new, better B. F. Goodrich Silvertowns.

Second In Line Guilty

Due to tire weakness and generally bad condition of many of the old crates now rolling the roads we are back to the serious problem of the pokey driver. Long lines build up along heavily traveled highways, and those who must get somewhere, and who have cars equal to the job, find themselves hopelessly hung up. An interesting feature of the problem is that the driver behind the man who is first in line usually is very guilty of contributory negligence because if he would just get ahead then there would be some room behind for others to overtake. There can't be a line without a second driver. The minute he pulls ahead he breaks up the congestion.

One spot in the car that often causes trouble is the frame end of the battery cable. If this union is loose, or corroded, it will cause a resistance in the battery circuit. This, in turn, will cause dimming of the headlights when they are operating from the battery alone. Since the generator's full output can't get to the battery there will not only be a battery weakness but a good chance that the generator armature may burn out.

What's Your Car Trouble?

Q. The tire treads on my car are badly scuffed. I've had the toe-in carefully checked. There doesn't appear to be anything wrong with camber and caster. H. L. P.

A. I would check for a bent tie rod or bent steering rod.

Q. Is it true that ignition timing can go slow of its own will? If so how? T. McB.

A. The distributor's position is secured by a locking nut which does not always hold its position. There is also the chance that the octane selector adjustment may slip. Since the breaker points have a bearing on today's more critical timing any wear or incorrect adjustment here can also slow timing.

Q. The tread of one of my tires is just about smooth. I should like to take a short combination business and pleasure trip and wonder if it would be all right to postpone recapping until afterwards. J. B.

A. With the tire recapped there would be less risk of puncture, for thin treads invite trouble. Just for your guidance, however, it is usually true that a tire will stand about 1000 miles of careful driving after the tread is smooth and before it is too late to recap.

Q. How many light boosters will I need for my car? On my car both headlights drop their rays for passing, and because of this I have been told I need two boosters. Is that correct? G. W. L.

A. Strange as it may seem, the opposite is true. Where only one headlight's rays drop you need two boosters. On your car one booster is quite sufficient. Don't forget to have your service man use No. 10 gauge wire.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him care of The Gettysburg Times and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply.

All Types Of Bonds To Individuals
(Including "E" Bonds)
Corporate Bond Quota Has Not Been Determined As Yet

WE DID IT BEFORE—WE'LL DO IT AGAIN!

AMERICA'S Great Victory Loan is on! It's up to you and your neighbors to make it the greatest Bond Drive our country has ever seen. Let's meet and beat the quota set for our community.

Take a look at that quota again. Maybe it does look big. But the job still ahead is BIG—mighty BIG. It will cost millions and millions of dollars to help pay the tremendous cost of Victory—to help bring our fighting men back home—to provide proper care for our over 300,000 wounded—to help us all back to peace and prosperity.

And this is just part of the job America must do. That's why the most important Bonds you've ever bought are the Bonds you buy today in America's Great Victory Loan!

YOUR MONEY BACK 100%
—PLUS INTEREST!

Victory Bonds are the world's best investment. You get $4 for every $3 you invest in them. At maturity, "E" Bonds at maturity, in case of emergency, your bonds can be cashed—100 cents on the dollar, plus interest. Buy more bonds in America's Great Victory Loan.

On The Silver Screen

MONDAY AND TUESDAY
A tense three-corner romance within the narrow confines of a hospital in a war frontier Chinese town develops into a smashing climax in RKO Radio's spectacular drama "China Sky," starring Randolph Scott, Ruth Warrick and Ellen Drew.

Scott and Miss Warrick play American doctors, co-workers in a little bomb-strafed village. Miss Drew, cast as Scott's bride, is a problem because of her total inability to adapt herself to conditions, her intense jealousy for her rival, and her desperate betrayal of them all. The subsequent disaster makes for a fast moving and engrossing climax and a fitting end to this absorbing romance.

WEDNESDAY
Described as a movie with more stars than you can shake a stick at, Fred Allen's newest venture, "It's In The Bag," a United Artist release, comes Wednesday to the Majestic Theatre. Listed as guest stars are such topflight celebrities as Jack Benny, Don Ameche, William Bendix, Victor Moore and Rudy Vallee, Binnie Barnes, Robert Benchley and Jerry Colonna are other leading performers.

Like the Fred Allen radio programs, much of the material in "It's In The Bag" originated on Allen's own typewriter and the comical story is said to have the same convulsive spontaneity which highlights the famous broadcast. It is a tale of five elusive chairs, one of which contains $300,000 in cash hidden within its upholstery.

THURSDAY
"Brewster's Millions," strictly for laughs, which co-stars Dennis O'Keefe, Helen Walker, June Havoc and Eddie "Rochester" Anderson, will be shown at the Majestic theatre on Thursday thru United Artists release.

Adapted from the famous novel by George Barr McCutcheon and the record-breaking stage play by Winchell Smith and Byron Ogley, "Brewster's Millions" exploits the dilemma of a young man forced to spend one million dollars in sixty days so that he will be eligible to inherit seven million more from the estate of an eccentric uncle.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Margaret O'Brien who steals the honors in "Our Vines Have Tender Grapes."

Margaret O'Brien is back again, and this time she is teamed with Edward G. Robinson in a gripping and tender story called "Our Vines Have Tender Grapes," which plays Friday and Saturday at the Majestic theatre.

"Our Vines Have Tender Grapes" is a true-to-life drama. It is peopled with true-to-life characters. Every single actor was hand-picked for his role. James Craig is just right as the young editor of the local newspaper who is Margaret's strongest ally; Frances Gifford is fine as the new school teacher from Milwaukee who cannot become accustomed to the small town; Aenes Moorehead plays Robinson's wife in a down-to-earth fashion; and Jackie "Butch" Jenkins is one continuous delight as Margaret's cousin and playmate.

Let's tear your electric bill to pieces

Go AHEAD, lady—tear your electric bill apart and see what it's about.

This little piece lights all your lamps. This one plays your radios. This cools and keeps your food. This washes your clothes. This takes care of the cooking and ironing and cleaning. And so on.

That's a lot of different jobs to be covered by one small bill.

And—hold on! You've paid for more than just electricity. About 25c of every dollar you pay for electric service goes in turn for taxes which benefit your community and help pay for the war.

Taxes UP. . . . General cost of living UP. . . . You'd think the cost of electric service would be up, too.

But it isn't. Even though the cost of just about everything entering into the production and distribution of electricity has advanced, there has been no increase in electric rates—in fact, for many years the cost of electricity has been steadily decreasing.

That's why it's wise to plan NOW to "Live Electrically!" It's Convenient, Clean, Modern, and Economical.
